CRUK CEO APPOINTMENT

Harpal Kumar has been appointed as Chief Executive of London based medical charity, Cancer Research UK (CRUK).

In 2003, Mr. Kumar was placed by Ruston Poole International as Head of Cancer Research Technology, prior to his promotion to Chief Executive of CRT and COO of CRUK.

David Collingham, Executive Chairman of Ruston Poole International said: “We are delighted to hear of the success of our appointee. The work of Cancer Research is of vital importance to us all. Harpal has already helped to position the charity as a world leader in drug discovery, and trebled the income of CRT – I’m sure he will take the organisation from strength to strength.”
